1. I reminded Alan Warfield that [REDACTED] quotes President Kennedy's letter to Mr. McCone and suggested that President Johnson's letter to Admiral Raborn should be substituted.

2. Jack Earman advised me that he would be on annual leave on Monday and Tuesday, 29 and 30 November; I so advised Dick Helms.

3. I took the memorandum I received from NPIC on their capability to exploit OXCART photography to Bud Wheelon since the memorandum indicated that no full CPX has been run and that NPIC has some reservations about the functioning of certain sensors on the OXCART which would facilitate measurements, etc. Bud seemed surprised at this but was not in a position to deny that this was true. He undertook to talk with Jack Ledford about this immediately and to get together with NPIC to straighten out whatever problems there may be. I emphasized that my only desire is to make sure that the Agency does not advertise a capability which it might not be fully qualified to deliver.

4. [REDACTED] who is attending the Armed Forces Staff College, was in to talk with me about the presentation I am scheduled to give at the College in December. He left me some notes which had been prepared by [REDACTED]

5. [REDACTED] Assistant Director for Personnel Management of NSA, telephoned to talk about their Employment Policy Officer and to seek advice on how we handle this function. I explained that, while this is a personal appointment, the individual performing these duties is located in the Office of the Inspector General. I said that I would alert [REDACTED] that he might receive a call from Herb or someone else at NSA to gain the benefit of his experience. Herb also wanted to talk about the problem NSA faces in that nearly all their senior managers at the first, second, and third levels are approximately the same age. I told him that I was not sure we know all the answers but that we would be glad to give him the benefit of our experience. I invited him and anyone he wishes to bring to the Agency on Wednesday, 1 December. I will want to have a small luncheon for him at that time and to discuss this matter in some detail.
